Teen Thought

Do you ever get “bored” by the repetitive nature of life? Do you ever think that things will always be the same? How does the past and present influence our view of the future?

Tips for Teaching

Discuss why God’s timetable may be very different from ours. Show that the God who could create a universe, can also destroy it. If man has learned to split the atom and release great energy, could not the God who put the energy there release it?
