

IN CONGRESS, JULY 4, 1776.

Unanimous Declaration of the thirteen united States of America

When in the course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the Laws of Nature and of Nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness.— That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed, — That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Liberty.

That the security of the Rights of the People is the primary object of all Government, and that the Government is instituted to protect the Rights of the People, and to provide for the good and general Welfare of the People, is the duty of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Liberty.

But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same Object, evinces a design to reduce them to absolute Tyranny, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such Government, and to provide new Guards for their future security.

The history of the United States is a history of the struggle for Liberty. The people of the United States have a right to alter or to abolish their Government, and to institute new Government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Liberty.

A dramatic space scene featuring a view of Earth from space. The Earth's surface is visible, showing clouds and landmasses. A bright, glowing sun or star is positioned in the upper left, casting a strong light across the scene. The background is a deep black space filled with numerous small, distant stars. The overall color palette is dominated by the bright yellows and oranges of the sun, the blues and whites of the Earth's atmosphere, and the deep blacks of the cosmic void.

Biblical scholars differ on the relevant texts, which are open to multiple interpretations.

Response:

The Bible is not ambiguous on God's design.

Paul is addressing God's created order, "nature."

Jesus never condemned or even addressed the issue.

Response:

Jesus speaks through his apostles (Luke 10:16)

Jesus did in fact speak clearly to the issue.

He answered, Have you not read that he
who created them
from the beginning
made them male
and female, and said,
Therefore a man shall leave his father and his mother and hold
fast to his wife,
and the two shall
become one flesh?

MAT
19:4-5

But what comes out
of the mouth proceeds from the heart, and
this defiles a person.

MAT
15:18-20

For out of the heart
come evil thoughts,
murder, adultery,
sexual immorality,
theft, false witness,
slander. These are
what defile a person.

MAT
15:18-20

Do not be deceived:

*To reject Christ's
teaching on marriage,
human sexuality,
is to reject Christ.*

Paul doesn't condemn loving,
consensual relationships.

Then why not polygamy?

A group of people are participating in a parade on a city street. They are holding a large banner that reads "God made US Queer!". The banner is divided into a red top half and a yellow bottom half. The text "God" and "Queer!" are in yellow on the red background, while "made US" is in red inside a yellow circle on the red background. The bottom half of the banner is yellow with black text. Several people are holding the banner, and some are holding small rainbow flags. In the background, there are buildings, a traffic light, and a Dunkin' Donuts store. The street is paved with asphalt and has white crosswalk lines.
